SECRETARY STATE TALKS TO MEMBERS ASSOCIATED PRESS

TALKS ACROSS OCEAN OF PRACTICAL SIDE TREATY TO BE SIGNED TUESDAY

NEW YORK, April 21.—(AP)—Members of the Associated Press assembled here today for their annual meeting and luncheon and heard, by means of one of radio's latest advances, Secretary of State Stimson in the British capital describe the London naval agreement.

The meeting was held at the Hotel Commodore, and members heard at their luncheon Secretary Stimson's address, greetings from President Hoover, conveyed through Frank B. Noyes, president, and the address of the general manager, Kent Cooper. Mr. Noyes was toastmaster.

Throughout the morning and afternoon the annual meeting of the Associated Press was in progress. There was to be an election of five new directors, the number whose terms expired this year. Names of ten candidates were submitted by the nominating committee.

The five, whose terms in office expire this year, and who were nominated for re-election are: W. H. Cowles, Spokane Spokesman-Review; Frank P. McClennan, Topeka State Journal; E. Lansing Ray, St. Louis Globe-Democrat; Robert R. McCormick, Chicago Tribune, and Frederick I. Thomson, Mobile Register.

The five additional candidates were: C. C. Hamlin, Colorado Springs Telegraph; Walter M. Harrison, Oklahoma City Times; George B. Longan, Kansas City Star; John L. Stewart, Washington, Pa., Observer, and E. G. Leipheimer, Butte, Montana, Standard. Mr. Leipheimer withdrew.

NEW YORK, April 21.—(AP)—Speaking across the Atlantic to the annual luncheon of The Associated Press, Secretary Stimson described the London naval agreement today as a long step forward in world diplomacy.

Jazz Orchestra Features Easter Church Service

NEW YORK, April 20.—(AP)—With a dance orchestra playing a syncopated arrangement of the Pilgrims' chorus from "Tannhauser," New York's most modern church, housed in a $3,000,00, 23-story apartment hotel, opened its doors to Broadway last night.

The Rev. Edward H. Emmett introduced the orchestra of Paul Specht—a complete jazz orchestra, save for drums—in Manhattan Congregational church, in the New Manhattan Towers hotel, at 76th street and Broadway.

The orchestral numbers were interspersed with the regular events of the church service—a short sermon, prayers, selections by the choir, and offertory duet. The choir sang typical Easter music.

GRADUATE BAYLOR UNIVERSITY HELD ON ROBBERY CHARGE

YOUTH TELLS STORY DISAPPOINTMENTS AFTER WORKING WAY THRU COLLEGE

FORT WORTH, April 21.—(AP)—Charges of robbery with firearms will be filed against Paul Gillispie, 26, who claims to be a graduate of Baylor University pre-medical school and admits having held up a filling station here Sunday night.

Gillispie told city detectives it was his "first job" and related a story of hard work to complete his education and then fruitless search for a job. He was arrested in his room after a taxi driver had reported to detectives he thought he was the man who had robbed a filling station.

His father was a surgeon, his mother a nurse, and his three brothers soldiers in the Canadian army during the world war, he related. All were killed in France.

Forced to shift for himself, Gillipsie said, he worked his way through Baylor University by teaching music. Last winter, he said, he received his A. B. degree from Baylor, but did not have

CONSTRUCTION CONTRACTS FIRST THREE MONTHS THIS YEAR FAR AHEAD LAST YEAR

WASHINGTON, April 21.—(AP)—Secretary Lamont said today that awarding of $303,000,000 in public construction contracts during the first quarter of 1930 in 37 states indicated that his estimate of $7,000,000,000 for the year would be fulfilled.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—(AP)—Construction contracts totaling more than $303,000,000 awarded during the first three months of the year were interpreted by administration officials today as reflecting the appeal of President Hoover for increased building as a means of business stabilization.

The total was announced by Secretary Lamont of the commerce department with a statement that i was he highest for that period in five years and in increase of 55 per cen over the first quarter of 1929.

Contracts for public buildings totaled $32,337,000 as compared with $24,318,000 in the corresponding period of last year. Lighting systems awarded contracts aggregating $20,458,000 as against $5,864,000 in the first quarter of 1929, an increase of 249 per cent.

An increase of 128 per cent was noted in railroad construction, the figures being $70,648,000 for the first three months of this year and $30,973,000 for the same period of last year. Contracts for hospitals and institutional construction moved upward from $22,588,000 last year to $39,364,000 this year.

Contracts for park development gained 127 per cent, waterfront development 73 per cent, water supply systems 70 per cent, incinerators 60 per cent and bridges 47 per cent.

Decreases of 55 per cent in the construction of railways buildings 28 per cent in park buildings, 14 per cent in sewerage systems and three per cent in educational buildings were reported. Residential building lagged behind last year by 48 per cent, commercial buildings were 15 per cent off and industrial buildings 17 per cent less than a year ago.

Seek Steady Employment.

NEW YORK, April 21—(AP)—Recommendations for procedure to provide steady employment the year around are incorporated in a preliminary report of Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt's unemployment committee published today.

The report said the committee had examined the plans and experiences of more than 200 leading corporations engaged in relieving unemployment.

The first recommendation is that steady work the year around be incorporated in business men's thinking so that it may assume major important in employer's daily planning and actions."

More attention by state, city and town governments to planning their consruction and purchasing activities so that important contracts may be held back in time of prosperity and pushed forward in times of depression is recommended.

For immediate action the committee endorsed the recommendations of the Merchants association of New York, which included working full force part time rather than a reduced force full time and the manufacture of stock to the limit of economic wisdom as well as a dismissal wage or two weeks notice.

FAVORITE OF SCREEN RENEWS ACQUAINTANCE WITH MANY OLD FRIENDS

Clara Bow and her "IT," Alice White and her curves, Nancy Carroll and her sweetness, all combined, could not have demanded and received from the city such a welcome as was voluntarily extended to Mary Brian, Corsicana's own featured artist in the Paramount studio and favorite actress on the silver and talking screens.

For citizens of all degrees and ages almost too avidly welcomed the actress back to her childhood home for her first vacation since she entered filmdom in 1925, and within a few hours after she reached Corsicana a constant stream of well-wishers and old friends began to seek her, and the telephone began to ring to extend her every sort of an invitation and courtesy imaginable.

It is the first time in seven years that Mary Brian, known as Louise Dantzler to her Corsicana friends, has visited her birthplace and she is glad to be "home."

"I live in California, but my home is in Corsicana where my friends are," the screen favorite declared in an interview Sunday afternoon, that was sandwiched in between groups that called on her at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McGill, where she and her mother are spending the few days allotted for a vacation while waiting the call for her next picture.

Friends of her school days found her the same girl that they knew before she gained the upper ranks of the celebrities of the screen, and glad smiles wreathed their faces as she called them by almost forgotten nicknames of carefree school days when thoughts of stardom were remote from their minds.

Welcome Home Gives Thrill.

And although Miss Brian is not by any means unused to the plaudits of an admiring throng, she admitted that the welcome she had received in Corsicana gave her a "thrill" that was lacking in curiosity inspired crowds that throng the studios in Hollywood and New York, for these were "home folks" who felt a personal interest in her. It was difficult for her to resist the endless demands made on her for appearances, and it took stern insistence from her mother to secure for her some badly needed rest.

Miss Brian's last visit to Corsicana was in 1923, two years before she sprang into prominence in the movies. And the story of her career reads almost like a fairy tale, practically as fantastic as the first role that she played, but the murmurs and roars of an appreciative public have left her untouched, and in person she is even more attractive than the screen presents her.

After being in Hollywood for some time seeking an entrance to filmland, she was selected to play the role of "Wendy" in the film version of Sir J. M. Barrie's "Peter Pan," and overnight she was changed from obscurity to prominence, and her rise has been continuous since that time.

Selected for Role of "Wendy."

She was selected for the role of "Wendy" because it was the desire of the producers to find a person who was not well known to the movie public, in order that the se-

THROUGH ROUTES PROVIDED TO DALLAS AND FT. WORTH BY TRACKAGE AGREEMENTS

WASHINGTON, April 21.—(AP)—Plans of the St. Louis San Francisco railroad and the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railway to open a through gate between Northern Texas and Southwestern Oklahoma to Fort Worth and Dallas were approved today by the Interstate Commerce commission.

The Rock Island was permitted to construct a line from Shamrock five miles south to a connection with the Frisco at Quanah and from there 100 miles to a connection with the proposed Vernon-Seymour line of the Frisco at Beaver Creek. It also was given authorization to operate under trackage rights over the Frisco between Quanah and the point of connection with the proposed line five miles north. Over the proposed Vernon-Seymour line of the Frisco the Rock Island will use trackage rights between Beaver Creek and Seymour and over the line of the Gulf, Texas and Western between Seymour and Jacksboro, approximately 76 miles, it will also have trackage rights.

In authorizing the new through route the commission modified its general plan for consolidation of railroads by allocating the Gulf, Texas and Western to the Rock Island Frisco system, instead of to the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe system.

The St. Louis, San Francisco & Texas railway, the Texas operating company of the Frisco, will construct from a connection with its line at Vernon to a connection with the Gulf, Texas and Western at Seymour, approximately 42 miles, and will operate under trackage rights over the Rock Island seventy-one miles between Jacksboro and Fort Worth.

Requests of the railroads to retain excess earnings from the proposed construction were denied.

In connection with the new route, the Cliton Oklahoma Western railroad of Texas will construct a branch line extending from Heaton eight miles southeast to a point in Gray county, near the north fork of the Red river.

The commission denied, however, on the grounds that public necessity had not been shown, the application of the Fort Worth and Denver Northern railway for permission to construct approximately 110 miles of line from a connection with its tracks at Childress to Pampa. Changing its consolidated plan, the commission authorized the Frisco to purchase the capital stock of the Gulf, Texas and Western to acquire control and the St. Louis, San Francisco and Texas to lease the road.

SAFETY TRAINING COURSE JUSTIFIED; MAN SAVES YOUTH

DALLAS, April 21.—(AP)—P. C. Rogers of Sherman, telephone company employee who had come to Dallas to attend a safety training course, today was the hero of a practical demonstration in which he snatched Isaac Davis, 13, from possible death under the wheels of a street car.

When the youth started to run across a street yesterday, he slipped and fell in front of the trolley car. The motorman quickly lowered the front guard, but it fell on the boy, and he rolled under it.

Rogers ran to the front of the car, braced himself with one hand and grasping the boy with the other hand, ran with the car, holding the youth clear of the wheels until the car could be halted.

Brice of Coleman were in a hospital here in a critical condition and two other children were hurt as the result of an automobile-bus accident south of Lawn, 30 miles south of here yesterday.

The accident occurred when a Brownwood-Abilene bus started around a string of cars and collided with the Smith car. The group was returning home after visiting Mrs. Brice and Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Smith at Jayton

The dead were a four-year-old son of the Smiths' and Dink Brice, seven years old. Bobby Smith, 2, and Levera Smith, 8, were the children hurt.

Man Selected For President Haiti Is Named

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti, April 21.—(AP)—Eugene Roy was unanimously elected temporary president of Haiti by the council of state today.

President-elect Roy is to assume office next month when the term of President Borno will expire. He will hold office until regular elections can be held for the presidency.

Mr. Roy's election was in accordance with recommendations of the Hoover commission which suggested him after virtually all of the political elements in Haiti had approved him as a non-partisan candidate.

THREE-POWER PACT WITH SECTIONS BY ALL FIVE POWERS

AMERICANS MAKING PLANS TO SAIL ON LEVIATHAN FOLLOWING SIGNING

LONDON, April 21.—(AP)—Announcement was made at St. James' Palace this noon that the last plenary session of the five-power naval conference would be held at 10:30 a. m., tomorrow. The treaty drawn up here, a three-power limitation pact with some five-power sections, will be signed at that time.

On the strength of the announcement, the American delegation happily concluded their sailing arrangements for the trip back home aboard the Leviathan, which may be held at Southampton until Wednesday morning for them.

Most of the delegation were in their quarters, superintending packing after the three months in London, while Colonel Stimson bade farewell to his country home an Stanmore and said goodbye to his household staff there.

Prime Minister MacDonald returned to his Downing street office early this forenoon to take up business connected with the closing of the naval conference. He reached London yesterday from an Easter holiday in Lossiemouth, Scotland.

The American delegation will be the first to sign the historic document, Colonel Stimson as its head, leading off. The powers will sign, according to their English alphabetic order, America, France, Great Britain, Italy and Japan. Following Colonel Stimson will be Ambassador Dawes, Secretary Adams, Senator Robinson, Senator Reed and Ambassadors Gibson and Morrow.

The treaty drafting committee took final survey of the treaty this forenoon and pronounced their work done. Ambassador Morrow, American member of the committee, announced after the meeting that everything was set for the signing tomorrow.

Robinson In Radio Talk

Senator Robinson, democratic member of the American delegation and minority leader in the senate, in a radio address yesterday to America pointed out that while all sought for had not been achieved certain accomplishments had been which represented a far advance toward lessened naval burdens.

He attributed failure to reach a five power limitation treaty to French demands for political security and Italian demands for naval parity with France, and revealed for the first time that America was never approached to join in a security pact and that France refused even to consider such a consultative pact as was once suggested in a statement of Colonel Stimson.

The address was a well studied carefully prepared discussion of the work of the conference, and was accorded the utmost importance since Senator Robinson as democratic leader might at least be expected to view the treaty hypercritically.

Draft is Approved.

Tiny Golden Haired Girl Is British Ruler

WINDSOR, England, April 21.—(AP)—A tiny golden haired girl usurped the British throne this morning and for a brief spell ruled her native land.

This day belonged to Princess and Duchess of York and beloved granddaughter of King Elizabeth, daughter of the Duke George and Queen Mary, for it was the fourth anniversary of her birth.

Little "Lilybet," as she calls herself, with delighted laughter seized the scepter beneath which the greyhaired king, his queen and all the royal family bowed in pleased submission.

There was a wonderful birthday party in Old Windsor Castle —such a party as the fairy books record for children to read all over the world. There were presents galore, including a mysterious package from Uncle David —the Prince of Wales—sent from the hunting field where His Royal Highness has been on a holiday.

In an effort to assist the census enumerators to locate all persons who have not been counted the Corsicana Daily Sun has employed Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Mitchell to make a thorough canvass of the business section.

R. P. McEntire of the Daily Sun organization will visit all of the industrial plants of the city for the same purpose.

These persons employed by the Sun are not enumerating but only trying to find any person who by some possible chance has been overlooked in the census count. When a person is found that has not been counted the Sun operators will take the name and address and turn the information into the office of E. L. Dupuy, census supervisor for the 16th district of which Corsicana is a part. Mr. Dupuy will then dispatch an official government enumerator to the address to secure the necessary information.

It is very important that every person residing in Corsicana be included in the enumeration.

If you have not been counted fill out the coupon appearing in the paper and mail it in to the census supervisor's office or phone 1018 and an enumerator will be sent immediately to your address.

The census enumeration is drawing to a close and the time is short in which to be included in the count.

LARGE NUMBER OF PEOPLE RESPOND TO CHURCH INVITATION

ENTHUSIASTIC SCENES ENACTED AT HAM REVIVAL MEETING SUNDAY NIGHT

After graphically delineating numerous instances where people refused to accept Jesus Christ, and before having another opportunity to embrace God's faith were suddenly killed or dropped dead, and concluding with an impassioned plea for people to accept Jesus, between 350 and 400 people responded to Dr. Ham's invitation to accept Christ, in the large cotton warehouse tabernacle in the eastern section of the city Sunday night. The tabernacle was filled to capacity.

Following a short enthusiastic song service led by Earl S. Rodgers with Raleigh Treadway as accompanist, the opening prayer was given by Rev. C. E. McStravick, pastor of the United Presbyterian church, and a free will offering was taken. A large number of out-of-town visitors were welcomed.

Mr. Rodgers announced that there will be no revival services at all in the city Monday, but services will be resumed Tuesday morning with an hour's service between 10 and 11 o'clock, when Dr. Ham will preach on "God's Seven-Fold Indictment Against Modern Christendom." It was announced that Dr. Ham will preach on "The Biggest Sinner in Corsicana" Tuesday night, and "The Unpardonable Sin" Wednesday night.

Before announcing his text, Dr. Ham asked all merchants of the city to close their businesses Tuesday morning between 10 and 11 o'clock, and attend the service in the tabernacle.

Text Carries Reproof.

Reading Proverbs 29:1, "He that being often reproved hardeneth his neck, shall suddenly be destroyed, and that without remedy," Dr. Ham declared that there is no text in the Bible with as much proof to back it up as this one. The evangelist pointed out many instances in ancient history where great cities of the world were warned, by God's emissaries, and then were destroyed.

"The Bible differentiates between the manner of death of the righteous and the sinful peoples," the evangelist declared, "and if you tell me the way people died, I can tell you what kind of lives they lived." Dr. Ham pointed out cases where numerous cities and individuals recorded in the Bible were warned by God's prophets, and then were "suddenly destroyed, without remedy." In this connection, he asserted that prayers for people are effective up to a certain point before their death, but if they sin "unto death," without repenting, their friends' and relatives' prayers will be in vain. "If people are warned of their sinful lives, and prayed for they will be saved," he continued.

"You can't stop God," Dr. Ham asserted, "He is behind this meeting, and if it is necessary, He will change the entire civic and economic aspect of your city to have an effective meeting here."

Make Plea to Accept God.

The evangelist made a fervent plea for people to accept God while they have a chance, and then enumerated a large number of instances where people put off the accepting of God until a later date, and before they had another opportunity to attend a meeting, they were stricken down. Dr. Ham discussed a length the sin and penalty of people throwing a bad influence around other people, which will hinder them from accepting Salvation, and declared that parents who influence their children to keep out of revival meetings will be held responsible when Judgment Day comes, and their children will curse them.

"There is no excuse for your attitude toward soul-saving campaigns, and if you influence others to stay away, you are an enemy of God, your family, and neighbors," he asserted.

The evangelist explained several cases where a death in a family was responsible for other members of the family being converted, and then declared that people should not wait for death before accepting Christ.

Mercy and Justice Battle.

"Mercy and justice are having a battle for you,' Dr. Ham went on, "Marcy says, 'Justice, stand back and give them another chance to accept God's salvation," when you fail to embrace the faith, and improve your ways, the sword of Justice cuts you down." In this connection, the evangelist explained that there is nothing as uncertain as life, and as inevitable as death.

"Unless you change your course, God will have to bring a series of tragedies on your town, to bring you to your knees," he went on. In conclusion, Dr. Ham said "As Moses warned Pharaoh nineteen times, and then destroyed him,. if you refuse God tonight the doors of the Kingdom may be closed upon you eternally, and you need not knock, because they will never be opened to you."

Much enthusiasm was manifested, and when Dr. Ham bave an invitation for people to be prayed for, approximately 400 responded.

TEMPLE H. MORROW PRINCIPAL SPEAKER MAUNDY THURSDAY

PAT BROWN AND SAM DAICHES RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT AND SECRETARY

With Temple Houston Morrow 33rd degree, Dallas, as principal speaker the members of the Navarro County Scottish Rite Club gathered Thursday evening in the banquet hall of the Third Avenue Presbyterian church for the impressive observance of 'Maudy Thursday.

The gathering was one of the most largely attended in the history of the local organization. Following the ritualistic ceremony, which is obligatory for Scottish Rite Masons the world over, an appetizing menu was served under the direction of the ladies of the church which was thoroughly enjoyed and many complimentary remarks were heard in behalf of the ladies for the excellent meal and the manner in which it was served.

At the business session following the regular program, Pat Brown and Sam Daiches were unanimously reelected president and secretary respectively, of the club.

Brown Presided

President Brown presided and the Rev. H. J. Ellis, chaplain of the club, pronounced the invocation following which the Rev. Mr. Ellis explained in a few words the meaning of the meeting and its significance in connection with the Last Supper and the Feast of the Passover.

Introducing the speaker of the evening C. W. Taylor paid tribute to Mr. Morrow, saying he had reached the highest pinnacle in Masonry, that of the thirty-third degree, and that he had attained this honor through his own efforts. Mr. Taylor said that it was not surprising that Mr. Morrow had attained this high degree as the blood of heroes course through his veins. Mr. Morrow is the grandson of Sam Houston, Texas' greatest hero and patriot.

Mr. Morrow expressed his appreciation at being allowed the opportunity of addressing the Navarro County Scottish Rite Masons saying it had long been his ambition to meet with the local body. The speaker paid his respects to Pierce Mayer, 33rd degree, saying that he was one of the hardest workers and one of the best loved men in the Scottish Rite bodies of Texas. "No man is loved any more by the craft than is Pierce Mayer," the speaker declared with feeling.

Tells of Hospital

The speaker also complimented the Scottish Rite Masons of Corsicana and Navarro county for their moral and liberal financial support of the Scottish Rite children's hospital. "The hospital belongs to every Scottish Rite Mason in the state of Texas," he said. "It is the greatest investment outside of church one can make. Little children are restored to health and happiness so that they can take their places as useful citizens of society and you make this institution possible. It is the greatest object lesson of practical applied christianity one can find," the speaker declared.

The speaker then launched into the meaning of the celebration, the teachings of the eighteenth degree, what masonry had meant to him and the teachings and precepts of the order. He urged his hearers to "take God into partnership" and painted a picture of the necessity of religious belief in daily life regardless of what that belief might be. The speaker held the close attention of his audience throughout his remarks and that the address was thoroughly enjoyed and appreciated was evidenced by the warm applause at the conclusion.

Mr. Brown thanked Mr. Morrow in behalf of himself and the club for coming to Corsicana and for the message he gave the Scottish Rite Masons.

The benediction was pronounced by the Rev. Mr. Ellis, rector of St. John's Episcopal church and chaplin for the Scottish Rite club.

The following telegrams were read by Mr. Brown:

"Sam Daiches, secretary Navarro county Scottish Rite Club.

"Cordial greetings and good wishes to the brethren of your Scottish Rite Club assembled for the Mystic Feast. May brotherly love prevail and may our Heavenly Father have you all in his holy keeping.'—Sam P. Cochman."

"W. P. Brown, Corsicana, Texas. "Valiant Knights let us ever remember that our creed is condensed into the three words, faith, hope and charity, the three great steps of the symbolic ladder that reaches to heaven. May our Heavenly Father ever have you in His holy keeping and bless you—Sam Dysterback, 33rd degree, I. G. H., Wise Master."

HIGH COTTON BELT OFFICIALS VISITED CORSICANA FRIDAY

Headed by John R. Turney, vice-president of the St. Louis South western Railway system in charge of traffic and law, about 65 officials and traffic representatives of the Cotton Belt Route from 35 cities arrived in Corsicana Friday morning at 8:30 and spent an hour inspecting terminal facilities and making a hurried trip through the business and residential sections of the city.

Of particular interest to the members of the party were the interchange connections with the Southern Pacific lines, and terminal facilities in Corsicana. According to members of the party, one of the principal routes for fast freight from St. Louis and Memphis gateways to the Pacific coast is via the Cotton Belt and Southern Pacific routes. Traffic heads from New York, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago, and other points in the north and east were particularly interested in the facilities offered in Corsicana, and expressed high opinions of the city and its railway terminal.

The party left St. Louis Sunday after inspecting the huge terminals there, and then went to Memphis, making their way southward. They spent Thursday in Tyler, state headquarters for the system; and were en route Friday to Waco; from there they will go to Dallas and complete their inspection tour.

Many members of the party were in Texas for the first time and were greatly impressed with the spring sunshine and beauty of the country through which they had traveled.

Greeted By Local Citizens.

The party was greeted by a number of Corsicana citizens who renewed old acquaintances and took the visitors for short trips over the city. Among those in the party well known in Corsicana were K. M. Post, formerly superintendent and now assistant to the president; C. C. Rockenback, industrial commissioner, who spent sometime in Corsicana during the oil boom; A. M. Fitch of Dallas; John F. Lehane, vice-president of the Texas Company of the system, and others.

According to members of the official group, the modern trend in rail transportation is motorization and through routings. The Cotton Belt is now using and will add to in the near future, a number of the latest type motor vehicles of transportation for passengers and freight. All schedules are being speeded up, and other improvements are under way to meet the demands of speedy transportation.

President Upthegrove of the system was one of the first to see the value of aviation as an adjunct to rail transportation, and the system is watching the progress of the new means of transportation closely. At present the limited area covered by the railroad prevents an extensive tie-up with aviation, but company officials state that wherever it is found practical that planes will be used.

In the past the semi-annual inspection tours have been made up only of officials and members of the board of directors, but this season an innovation has been introduced by taking traffic representatives from strategic points in the United States along on the trip to acquaint them with the transportation facilities of the system.

Major H. S. Phillips, superintendent of the Cotton Belt in Texas, and Assistant Superintendent Rhone were in charge of the special train.

Some Missed Train.

One group of the visitors became interested in the search for the far-famed bluebonnets of Texas and missed the train, and were taken to Waco by automobile by E. D. McCarver and A. L. Springfield.

The personnel of the Cotton Belt inspection party on arrival here included John R. Turney, vice-president in charge of traffic and law; Col. F. W. Green, vice-president in charge of operation; W. E. McGraw, vice-president and general superintendent; John F. Lehane, vice-president of the Texas Company of the system; J. D. Watson and K. M. Post, assistants to President Upthegrove; Traffic Managers R. P. Harrington in charge of solicitation, W. F. Knobeloch, rates; W. F. Murray, civic relations; Assistant Traffic Managers H. D. Landry, J. K. James and S. F. Baker; C. C. Rockenback, industrial commissioner; A. C. McKibbin, director of public relations; Paul Bunting, secretary to President Upthegrove; Lloyd Magruder, secretary to Vice-President Turney; Assistant General Freight and Passenger Agents Walter D. May, Memphis; R. C. Hatfield, Fort Worth; A. H. Merck, Little Rock, Ark.; L. C. Barry, mail, baggage and express agent, Texarkana.

Thirty-five Cities Represented.

The following members of Cotton Belt traffic soliciting forces representing thirty-five cities were included: E. M. Vernon, Amarillo; T. A. McDonough, Atlanta; H. T. Culp, Blytheville, Ark.; W. E. Thompson, Camden; F. W. Christopher and W. C. Huxhold, Chicago; R. W. Byrne, Cincinnati; E. P. Becker and C. A. Tucek, Cleveland; A. M. Fitch and J. R. Qualls, Dallas; Frank I. Smith, Denver; G. L. Leitner and F. H. Abeel, Detroit; W. L. Geer and H. C. McClure, El Paso; R. C. Hatfield and James Valentine, Ft. Worth; R. A. Irving and J. W. Wommack, Houston; C. A. Webb, Jonesboro; F. E. Rownd and C. E. Nash, Kansas City; R. D. Plunkett, Little Rock; A. W. Reese and W. A. Staley, Los Angeles; H. J. Flynn, Louisville; C. D. Bowman and J. H. Arnold, Memphis; F. N. Winders and R. B. Nessum, Milwaukee; R. A. Pendergrass, Nashville.

S. C. Yeaman and J. M. Flynn, New Orleans; Stanley G. Bliss and W. O'Donnell, New York City; M. B. Hatfield, Paragould; Frank Pattie, Pine Bluff; C. E. Scott and H. T. Rosemyer, Pittsburgh; D. G. Lattimer, San Antonio; E. A. Senneff and Ben Garcia, San Francisco; E. O. McRae, Shreveport; W. L. Roper and McVeigh Goodson, St. Louis; J. G. Thomas, Stuttgart; J. R. Gunter, Texarkana; H. A. Klein and J. F. Horsfull, Jr., Waco; E. E. Perkins, Winston-Salem.

At Pine Bluff, Ark., D. W. Russell, vice-president and general manager, and H. R. Moore, general traffic manager of the Southwestern Transportation Company, a subsidiary of the Cotton Belt, joined the party.

At Texarkana, G. V. McNallie, of Tyler, representing the Cotton Belt agriculture department, boarded the train, and will remain with the delegation on the remainder of the trip through Texas.

tivity did they make any mention of ransom, he said, but instead gave him the impression they sought vengeance for what they considered unjust treatment of banana workers. Cassidy's home is in Peabody, Mass.

At one time during his stay with his abductors Cassidy though they were going to kill him, and he asked that one be sent for a priest so that he might confess before he died. The leader answered him grimly they were not going to kill him.

Their march took the party through a wild tepid jungle, with beautiful verdure, but alive with poisonous insects and dangerous snakes and beasts.

CARD OF THANKS.

We want to thank our friends for their kindness to us during the illness and death of our son, Burford, and for the beautiful floral offerings. Especially do we thank Drs. Newton and Bristow, who were very kind and faithful, and the nurses who were kind and patient, also. May God in His goodness, bless all of you.

RETIRED DENTIST TELLS OF MURDER UNDER COMPULSION

PLANNED TO COLLECT HUGE INSURANCE POLICY CARRIED IN SLAIN MAN

BENTONVILLE, Ark., April 19.—(AP)—John R. Duty of Rogers, Ark., and Boyle Clark, of Columbia, Mo., attorneys for Dr. A. J. Bass, retired dentist of Columbia, announced today that Bass had signed a written confession made to them in which he admitted he killed William R. Pearman of Columbia, on whom he held assignments of $200,000 in life insurance.

Bass was quoted by the attorneys as saying he shot Pearman to death as they were riding in Bass' automobile near Rocheport, Mo., on the night of March 26. Three St. Louis gangsters who were following them later took the body to a spot near Gravette, Ark., where it was found three days after the killing, Bass was quoted as saying.

The attorneys announced they would seek to have the case removed to one of three counties in Missouri for trial and that insanity would be the plea of Bass.

ST. LOUIS, April 19.—(AP)—The St. Louis Post Dispatch says today in a dispatch from a staff correspondent at Bentonville, Ark., that Dr. A. J. Bass, retired Columbia, Mo., dentist, has confessed he shot and killed William R. Pearman, his friend, last March 26 in a plot to collect $200,000 insurance he held on Pearman's life, under the name of William Folta.

The newspaper, which publishes the text of Dr. Bass' confession, says he admitted he killed Pearman on a road near Rocheport, Mo. while driving Pearman to Columbia, their home, from Kansas City. The confession says he was forced to commite the crime by three St. Louis gunmen who followed closely behind his car on the trip and later disposed of the body.

The confession published by the Post Dispatch says that after the shooting Dr. Bass hauled Pearman's body, locked in the rear compartment of his coupe, to his farm near Columbia, kept it there over night and the next day drove with it more than 250 miles to Joplin, Mo., where he turned it over to the gunmen.

Dr. Bass is quoted as saying the gunmen then took the body in their car to Gravette, Ark., where they dumped it out, while Dr. Bass returned to Columbia.

The confession names "Hooky," as one of the gunmen, and says he and others had insisted Pearman, a Columbia mechanic, be "bumped off" immediately "because he was drinking and talking too much," and for the further reason that the gunmen wanted $100,000 which was to have been Pearman's share in the insurance fraud.

According to the confession, Dr. Bass sold Pearman some land in Arkansas under the name of William Folta as a part of the insurance graud plot and then took out $200,000 insurance on "Folta's" life. The gunmen, according to Dr. Bass, were to have supplied a body to be identified as that of Folta, but that "they failed me in this and insisted upon making Pearman the goat."

Dr. Bass was quoted as saying his own life was threatened if he did not kill Pearman.

Order Change Name Blooming Grove Fair

BLOOMING GROVE, April 18.—At a recent meeting of the Business Men's Luncheon club, it was unanimously decided to change the name of the Blooming Grove Poultry Show and Fair to Blooming Grove Fair.

The fair has been conducted for six years and it has been decided to incorporate it. Charles N. Dillingham is president of the fair and the following are directors:

T. M. Sewell, R. L. Harris, J. R. Griffin, C. L. Tillman, H. R. Messengale, Mrs. W. A. High and Mrs. L. I. Griffin.

FOG BLAMED FOR PLANE CRASH THAT COST FOUR LIVES

JERSEY CITY, April 19.—(AP)—Fog which forced their plane to a low altitude as it groped for an airport was blamed today for the death for four persons, killed when a Canadian Colonial Airways tranport hit a power line 150 feet above the ground and fell in flames. A police inspector expressed the belief the four persons had been electrocuted.

The dead:

Count Henry De La Vaulx, 60, of Paris, founder of the Aero club of France and president of the Federation Aeronautique Internationale.

Mrs. Mary E. Williams, 27, Previdence, R. I

Arthur V Conklin, of Huntington, N. Y.

John Salway, 37, of Albany, N. Y., the pilot.

In the face of reports that fog prevailed and reduced the flying ceiling to 900 feet with visibility of one-quarter of a mile, the plane took off from Albany at 3:25 p. m. yesterday for the airport at Newark. It was in passenger service between Montreal and Newark.

Shortly after 5 p. m., the plane appeared out of the mists above Journal Square in the heart of Jersey City. Crowds in the square watched in amazement as the plane swooped close to the roofs barely 100 feet above the ground.

Veering off to the northeast from above the square, the plane was next sighted over the open meadows along the Hackensack river near the powerstation of the Public Service Gas and Electric company.

Plane Bursts Into Flames.

Henry Lehman, watchman at the plant, saw the plane flying dangerously near the steel towers which support high tension power lines carrying 132,000 volts. He seized a red flag and waved it in an effort to warn the pilot away from his danger.

Before Salway could manevuer the plane away from the network of wires, his left wing struck one, and the plane dropped, bursting into flames.

Workman from the power plant attempted to extinguish the flames and rescue the occupants of the plane, but the heat of the fire kept them at a distance.

Louis Landau, weather forecaster at the Metropolitan airport at Newark, said he had telephoned a warning of low ceiling and poor visibility to Salway at Albany.

Count De La Valux, who boarded the plane at Montreal and was its only passenger as far as Albany, was making a tour to study aviation in North and South America. He was a pioneer of French aeronautics and a ballooonist before the dys of aircraft.

John Salway was regarded by Canadian Colonial airways officials as one of their most conservative and reliable pilots.

It's Wise to Choose A Six

After all, it is a perfectly simple matter to decide which automobile to buy. Only two ques-tions must be answered to your satisfaction—

First: Which car gives the most for my money
Second: Which car represents the soundest investment in satisfaction and pride of ownership?

In buying a low-priced car consider the following facts:

It is wise to choose a six-cylinder motor — for six-cylinders are necessary to take out vibration and roughness. Six-cylinder smoothness will save the motor, the whole chassis, and body, the passengers, and the driver.

The Chevrolet is a six. And yet it sells at a price that anyone can afford to pay.

This very low-priced car lasts longer, not only because of fine materials and oversize parts, but also because it is a six. It's big, smooth, 50-horespower six-cylinder engine is always "taking it easy." There is no feeling of strain.

WORK OUT PLANS FOR DAIRY SCHOOLS FOR NEXT WEEK

ONE-DAY SCHOOLS TO BE HELD IN CORSICANA AND BLOOMING GROVE

Plans are rapidly being completed for the dairy schools to be held at Corsicana and Blooming Grove on May 2 and 3, when the dairymen and farmers will have an opportunity to hear some of the oustanding experts in this line lecture on various phases of the fast-growing industry.

A number of letters have been sent out by County Agent Henry Gentry to all parts of the county urging a good representation of all communities at the two meetings. Friday's meeting will be held at Arcady Farms at Corsicana, while the Saturday session will be at Blooming Grove.

Miss Mattie Wilroy is actively engaged in securing a good representation of farm women for the school.

INFESTATION BY GRASSHOPPERS IN RICHLAND BOTTOM

Reports of rather extensive infestation from grasshoppers in the Richland creek bottom areas were received by Couny Agent Henry Gentry late Monday and he advised the use of poison to stop their depredations.

For most effective work, the agent recommended a mixture of 25 pounds of bran, two to three pounds of white arsenic, half dozen oranges, one gallon of molasses, and about two gallons of water. The mixture should be stirred into a smooth paste. Corn syrup should not be used because of its tendency to form a film immediately.

The mixture should be placed on cleared ground on the edge of the field and not in the brush, and distributed in such a way that the hoppers will have to fly over it to reach a new food supply. The poison should be put out by daylight in the morning.

Roaming the Realm — Of — County Sports

By DELMORE OLSEN

The lid was blasted off in the Navarro County Amateur Baseball League Sunday afternoon with the Magnolia Oilers, Whites Chapel and Blooming Grove turning in victories over the American Well Gumbo Busters, Bazette and Humble nines, respectively. Scores of the contests were: Magnolia 16, American Well 2; Whites Chapel 4, Bazette 2. Blooming Grove 8, Humble Oil & Refining Company 3.

In the first named contest, the pitching of Mims, fielding of Robison and hitting of Harper were the outstandingg features. The prize rookie hurler from California turned in a great pitching exhibition, limiting the hard hitting American Well crew to three hits, two of which were garnered by Jack Almon. He fanned nine batters and had the remainder popping up or hitting grounders which were snapped up by the alert infield and registered as putouts.

Robison, shortstop for the Magnolia nine, turned in several nice plays during the game, especially his quickness in snapping up balls deflected by the pitcher's glove and rifling them to first base in time for the putout. As far as fielding goes, the entire team played "heads up" ball in supporting their mate on the mound, only one error being credited to the side, that to Hellums on a bad throw to second base in an attempt to catch a runner.

Harper, with four hits out of five times at bat, led the assault on Lawrence Harris and Jack Allmon, but had to share scoring honors with James Strum, both accounting for four runs. Almon was the only hitter on the Gumbo Buster team that secured more than one hit.

Willie Weeks, star hurler for the Whites Chapel nine, turned in a great game by taming the Bazette hitters and winning the initial game, 4-2, allowing only two hits during the contest. Weeks was aided in putting over the victory by sharp fielding which pulled him out of several bad holes. Clovis Stover, manager of the team, led the way in the game in the matter of hitting and run getting, securing a double and single in three trips and scoring three runs.

Arnold, Bazette tosser, pitched a nice game, fanning 11 men and allowing only six hits, which were made, however, when hits meant runs, and walking one man. The Bazette crew just couldn't touch the offerings of Weeks for hits when they counted.

Inability to hit in the pinches was responsible for the downfall of the Humble team in the contest with Blooming Grove. The oil boys got 11 hits but a number of their men were left stranded on the paths. Blooming Grove, on the other hand, cashed in on 13 hits for eight runs, winning 8-3.

This contest was marked by long distance hittings, three triples and one home run being registered during the contest. Ford, Blooming Grove, shortstop, led the hitting with two three-ply blows and a single in five attempts.

It was estimated that at least 1,500 fans witnessed the three games Sunday afternoon, which opened the County League season, and as the race grows older, the attendance at the games should run higher.

Swimming school for boys will be started May 5 at the Corsicana Y. M. C. A. and will continue until May 17, a period of two weeks, it was announced Monday morning by Charles F. Broughton, physical director. Classes in the school will be held for beginners and also for advanced swimmers. Considerable interest is always shown in these schools and preparations are being made to accommodate a large number of youngsters during the two weeks.

Annual tennis tournament, sponsored by the local Y. M. C. A. will be reeled off on the court at the City Park May 23 and 24. All players in Corsicana and surrounding communities wishing to play in the tournament are requested to register at the local Y in advance of the tournament and receive entry cards. The cards will cost $1 for singles and $1.50 for doubles.

Considerable interest has been shown among the county schools and various clubs in the organization of the "Peewee" league, according to a statement made by officials of the American Legion Post at Purdon, which is to sponsor such a league during the summer months. Communities interested in the proposed league are Navarro, Mildred, Purdon, Barry, Blooming Grove, Richland and the I. O. O. F. Home.

The purpose of the league, it was stated, is to interest young boys in baseball and thus keep interest in the National pastime alive in the county. The Purdon Legion Post should be complimented on its interest in baseball and willingness to sponsor such a league.

R. L. WHEELOCK APPOINTED RECEIVER CENTRAL TEXAS REFINING COMPANY FRIDAY

R. L. Wheelock, mayor of Corsicana, and well-known oil operator, was appointed receiver for the Central Texas Refining company with headquarters in Corsicana, in orders entered in the district court late Friday in the suit styled C. A. Middleton vs. Central Texas Refining company, application for the appointment of a receiver and debt, by Hawkins Scarborough, judge of the Thirteenth Judicial district court. Wheelock's bond in the sum of $50,000, made by the Southern Surety Company of New York, was approved by Judge Scarborough.

The suit was brought by Lawrence Treadwell, general counsel for the company, and Richard and A. P. Mays.

The receiver was ordered to take charge of all and singular property of the company, real, personal and mixed, and take possession of the properties, assets, books, accounts, minute books, etc., and operate the same.

Middleton is president of the Central Texas Refining company.

A friendly receiver has been appointed for the Central Texas Refining company as a necessary step to protect all of the creditors of the company, officials of the organization announced Saturday afternoon.

R. L. Wheelock, official receiver, took charge Saturday, and announced that no change would be made in the officials family, no radical change in the policies of the company, and that the same high grade of products and service would be continued.

Officials of the company declared that the business would be conducted as usual; they pointed out that they expected all the creditors to be paid all their accounts within a short time; assets of the company are reported to total approximately twice the liabilities.

The company was organized in Corsicana several years ago as the Kent-Middleton Refining, company and operated a refinery and other oil properties in Navarro county, later expanding until the present time there are five refineries, one at Angus, one at Brownwood, one at Minerva, one at Midland and one at Luling. Leases, etc., in a number of sections are included in the company's holdings. The Kent-Middleton company was later reorganized as the Central Texas Refining company and last year became a portion of the Cranfill-Reynolds corporation—taking care of the refining and distribution of the corporation.

New Equipment For Refinery Received

Three carloads of new equipment for the Corsicana Refinery of the Magnolia Petroleum company arrived Friday morning, which included some new stills.

Work of modernizing the plant is expected to cover a period of several months.

REAL EVIL OF GAMBLING

"Gambling," says Sir Walter Scott, in the introduction to "St. Roman's Well," is "a vice which the devil has contrived to render all his own, since it is deprived of whatever pleads an apology for other vices, and is founded entirely on the cold-blooded calculation of the most exclusive selfishness."

The prevalence of the vice calls for some straight thinking concerning its iniquity. Too many persons, including both "society" women who play bridge and street urchins who roll dice in back alleys, do not consider gambling inherently wrong. Their attitude is that it is only to be condemned if one's losses are so great as to be embarassing or cause those dependent upon the gambler to suffer. One often hears them say that they look upon their losses as no more than a reasonable outlay for the entertainment that they get from the game. Then, too, they are in the habit of saying loosely that all life is a gamble, that everyone is constantly taking hazards.

They ignore the fundamental fact that gambling at dice and cards is immoral because it is an attempt to win money by making somebody else lose it. There is no way for the gambler to profit except by causing his opponent to suffer.

This is the crux of the matter and must be emphasized if people are to be made to believe that gambling is an evil in itself, independently of whether one can afford to lose. Can one afford to win, or try to win, at the expense of another, should rather be asked.

FORGOTTEN TRADES

The village smithy no longer stands "under a spreading chestnut tree;" the garage has taken its place; and the blacksmiths of today are so few that when one of them passes away it is a matter for comment.

But horse-shoeing is not the only picturesque occupation that has disappeared or is disappearing. In these days of machinery, few now make shoes by hand, although the "shoemaker" is still applied to cobblers who only mend them. The country has no "cradlemaker," nor the town a cooper who makes barrels by hand, though the word still persists as a surname. These surnames offer a most convenient method of recalling forgotten trades. Who would guess that Thacker or Thackeray was the man who thatched the roof with straw; that Tyler was the one who tiled it, or Slater, he who roofed with slate? A few other names, as Collier, the charcoal burner; Chandler, the candle maker, and Fuller, the cloth cleaner, will show how numerous were the ancient crafts. Blacksmith has no equivalent among English family names, unless it be the abbreviated Smith, though, in German, there is Klingensmith, the "clanging smith." But the horseshoer was a Farrier, dropped in our dictionaries but retained in the directories.

But with the passing of the old, new crafts are finding a place. Beside mechanics we now have mechanicians and besides undertakers, morticians. Modern life is more complex than that of the past and calls for specialists.

The chap who takes hair tonic internally usually finds that his thoughts go woolgathering.

It is sometimes disappointing to discover that a hero is only human after all.

JUST FOLKS

EASTER

'Tis said they marvelled very much
Among themselves that Easter day
Who found the great stone rolled away
And ventured in His robes to touch
In fancy I can hear them say:
"At times we used to think Him odd:
He called Himself the son of God!
And promised life if we'd repent,
Now this must be just what He meant."

I see them gathered near the tomb
On that first resurrection day,
And fancy I can hear them say:
"He told us light should end the gloom;
That none without the grave should stay;
That He should give us all a sign
Of life eternal and divine,
But meekly to His death He went,
Now this must be just what He meant."

The living are misunderstood,
We seldom catch their meaning clear
While they are struggling with us here,
So hard it seems to know the good
But when no more we have them near
In some strange way to us grows plain
The counsel which they gave in vain.
When comes the blow they would prevent
We understand just what they meant.

ECLIPSE OF SUN.

Dame Nature schedules for April an eclipse of the moon and the sun. On April 13 the moon went into a small partial eclipse, visible to observers in the two Americas, on the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans, and in southwestern Europe and northwestern Africa.

About 11 per cent of the moon's surface was covered by the earth's shadow. It commenced at 12:20 a. m. Eastern Standard time, reached its maximum at 12:58, and ended at 1:35—one hour and fifteen minutes.

The solar eclipse on April 28 will be visible as a total eclipse from a narrow strip of land about one-half mile wide and several hundred miles long. This strip, according to Nature Magazine of Washington, passes a little to the north of San Francisco and Sacramento, grazes the southern extremity of Honey Lake, crosses the Black Rock Desert and Kings River Valley in Nevada, the extreme southeastern corner of Oregon, and goes thence diagonally across Idaho a few miles south of Silver City and Boise City. From there it crosses the Rocky Mountains into Montana, where the eclipse changes from total to annular.

This is the first total solar eclipse visible in this country since the eclipse of Jan. 24, 1925, which was seen by several million people in New York and New England.

In California the total eclipse will occur about 11 a. m. (P. T.); in Idaho about 12:15 p. m. (M. T.), and in Montana a few minutes later than in Idaho.

In Berkeley, Sacramento and Boise City 99 per cent of the sun's diameter will be covered by the moon at greatest eclipse, in Carson City and Helena 97 per cent and 98 per cent, respectively, and in Butte about 99 per cent.

There will be a very large partial eclipse in all the northwestern states, the magnitude decreasing with distance from the central line. In the central states, Nature Magazine says, the maximum eclipse will occur near 2 o'clock, and in the eastern states about 15 or 20 minutes after 3 o'clock.

At Washington the eclipse will begin at 2:09 p. m., the greatest eclipse will occur at 3:23 p. m., and the eclipse will end at 4:30 p. m. Eastern Standard Time. The magnitude will be 49 per cent.

It will be 54 per cent in New York, 58 per cent in Boston, 64 per cent in Chicago, 5 per cent in St. Louis, 30 percent in New Orleans, 36, per cent in Atlanta. At the Lick Observatory on Mount Hamilton, Calif., the magnitude of the eclipse will be 97 per cent, and at the Mt. Wilson Observatory near Pasadena, Calif., 85 per cent.

ECONOMIC IGNORANCE.

Professor Tilney, of Columbia University, has just added his voice to that of the multitude that is crying for government by trained political, economists who have made representative government their life work and study. In that number is President Hoover and many of our leading economists.

Are we to infer then that these men are not satisfied with the manner in which the national, state and local governments are being administered? They leave no alternative for the conclusion that many of the men and women now administering public affairs are not 100 per cent qualified to do so.

In this belief the professors and doctors but confirm a popular theory that has been demonstrated, proved and verified.

Professor Tilney says a public executive must have some knowledge of "the philosophy of human association, the moral and biological history of the human race, and individual, group and racial psychology and psychopathology." What does the average man, who is plucked from private life into the chair of governor or president or into some legislative chamber, know about these matters?

President Hoover has repeatedly said that in his opinion economic ignorance is one of the nation's grave perils. And yet a congress made up of men who know less about economics than they do about the Einstein theory toys constantly with the economics of the nation. Can a "scientific tariff schedule" originate in such a body?

The lines are being tightly drawn, political fences are being strengthened to withstand the strain of a grueling campaign and the stage is about set for one of the hottest political battles in the history of the Lone Star State this summer. There are candidates everywhere—and according to the law—not a drop to drink—investigations and straw votes notwithstanding. Don't lose your temper and by the time the cotton crop is being marketed we will have forgotten all of the harsh words that shattered the ozone during the sultry summer days.

DECLINE OF "SOCIAL CALL."

Legion are the sins of the automobile. Blame for undermining the morals of youth is placed at its oft assaulted door. In it the American Empire is said to be declining to its ultimate fall. Paternity of that precocious child, the partial-payment plan, is attributed to it by those who see in it a force that is rapidly destroying the once sound economic structure of the nation. Have not boys and girls from the farms driven away in it to the city? Have not moralists and sentimentalists accused it of breaking the home circle? In fact, where is there a so-called social evil of today that this satanic invention hasn't had a hand in?

If it is true that the automobile has brought all these ills upon humanity, it has more than compensated for them by one blessing it has brought. This boon to mankind is the abolition of the ancient and overworked custom of the "social call."

Anyone who attempts to find an old friend "at home" in this automotive age comes sharply to a realization of the utter futility of trying to be neighborly and sociable. To those so hopelessly old-fashioned as to go "calling" on a sunshiny Sunday afternoon the houses of the village must seem as deserted as Goldsmith's "Sweet Auburn! loveliest village of the plain."

What pangs of unsurfeited curiosity the ladies of gossip must suffer in this era when the new family in the neighborhood is never "at home to callers" at times when it is perfectly proper for a member of the auxiliary to call! And with this once constant threat of an unanounced visit from Mrs. Pecksniff down the street and this incentive for domestic tidiness and extravagance in household furnishings removed, is there not grave danger of that predicted deterioration of the home?

Motoring has usurped the place of the "afternoon call" as the great Sunday pastime of the nation.

Whether to sign the Grundy Tariff or not is one of the hair shirts of the Presidency, at least—if not a barbed wire union suit.

Why doesn't Reed Smoot give up all this unhealthy reading and go in for a Philo Vance story with a half dozen clean murders?

Mr. Coolidge himself says his forthcoming magazine article will be much more sensational than the other. It is possible.

OIL CITY IRON WORKS.

CONSERVATION OF OIL.

It is hoped that some of the oil conservation experiments now being carried on in the various important fields will result in the creation of a nation-wide program to prevent waste of our invaluable petroleum resources.

In Texas, and to some extent in California, the so-called unit system of field work is being extensively tried out. Under this system, development of a field owned by a number of interests, is pooled in the hands of a committee with absolute power.

The returns are divided among the owners, and over-production prevented.

The California gas conservation law has excited much interest. In the early stages of its existence it failed, due to the refusal of some operators to abide by the restrictions. Success is now forecast, as, according to a recent report, California operators are curtailing production in practically every field in order to conserve the natural gas which will be needed in the future to lift the oil from the depth to the surface.

Every citizen, whether he knows it or not, has a direct interest in oil conservation. We are producing most of the world's supply, yet we have but a comparatively small percentage of the resources.

The highway committee of the chamber of commerce, with Dick Jackson as chairman, is accomplishing considerably more in the interest of the road building program in Navarro county than the average citizen probably realizes. This committe, and its chairman, is working long hours and giving much personal effort to expedite the road work in this section and results are being realized. If present plans carry Navarro county will be one of the best paved counties in the state in a comparatively short length of time.

Even if Corsicana is not a member of a professional baseball league this season we have one of the hottest amateur loops in the state and the fans are due to witness some real and interesting baseball this summer.

SEARS-ROEBUCK, MONTGOMERY WARD MERGER PLANNED

PHILADELPHIA, April 18.—(AP)—Reported plans for a merger of Sears Roebuck & Company and Montgomery Ward & Company, were described today by Lessing J. Rosenwald, vice-president in charge of Sears Roebuck interests in Philadelphia, as being "substantially correct."

"The question of a merger has not been brought before the board of directors," Rosenwald said, "but there have been unofficial communications. The reports, therefore, are substantially correct."

Mr. Rosenwald denied, however, that his father, Julius Rosenwald, chairman of the board of Sears, Roebuck, had gone to New York to discuss the possibility of a merger. He said he knew of no statement to be issued by the chairman.

"Mr. Rosenwald has gone to New York to attend a meeting of the Rockefeller Foundation," the son said, "not on any matter pertaining to the interests of the company."

THREE TOWNS GIVE FINAL FIGURES FOR 1930 ENUMERATION

Preliminary announcements of the populations of Palmer, Ferris, and Kosse were made Saturday morning by Ed L. Dupuy, census supervisor of the sixteenth district.

"I spent most of my time on the bed. I was very nervous, and the least thing upset me. I did not have strength enough to lift a broom. At times I would have bad headaches, which would hurt me until I could hardly see.

"Someone asked me why I did not try Cardui. I had read of it, so I thought I would see what it would do for me. It was really remarkable how I came out. My strength returned, and my health was better than it had been in years. I gained in weight about ten pounds. My color was good, and I ceased to suffer from headaches. I have told my friends about Cardui because I was benefited after taking it."

PLANE CONTROLLED BY MACHINE FLEW TO SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FANCISCO, April 18.—(AP)—The feasibility of waging war in the air without the use of human pilots and of sending huge planes, piloted only by machinery, on cross-country trips, has been demonstrated by the army air corps.

A big army bomber took off from Mather field, Sacramento, last night bearing four men and a quer looking machine about the size of a hat box. When the plane was well in the air, the pilot, Major Hugh Knerr, turned the controls over to the little machine, which flew the ship straight as an arrow to San Francisco.

Over the Bay City Knerr touched a button, and the machine guided the 18,000-pound plane in circles for 20 minutes and then headed it back for Sacramento. Except for the take off and landing, the machine did all navigating, keeping the plane on an even keel through the rough air and maintaining the course with mechanical precision.

WILL OF COLEMAN COUNTY WOMAN HELD TO FAVOR NIECES

COLEMAN, April 18.—(AP)—Mrs. Martha Tyler Overall intended to convey by her will the residue of the vast Overall estate to three nieces, Judge E. J. Miller decided in disrict court here today.

The ruling was on request of J. P. McCord, administrator, for a construction of the will, which is being contested.

The three nieces of Mrs. Overall are Mrs. Agillia M. Franzell of Wheeling, W. Va.; Mrs. Mary M. McCully of Britton, Okla., and Mrs. Lucy Van Cleve of Macon, Mo., the latter dead. The court ruled that one-third of the residue should go to Mrs. Van Cleve's two children, instead of being apportioned according to the law of descent and distribution.

Mrs. Van Cleve died prior to Mrs. Overall's death and no alteration was made in the will, which bequeathed monies remaining after all bequests, approximating $175,000, had been made, to the three nieces. Monies remaining amounted to about $2,500, but land note and oil royalties amounted to more than $300,000.

Attorneys for heirs seeking to have the residue divided equally among all relatives of Mrs. Overall, filed a motion for a new trial. If this is denied an appeal will be taken.

Nnmerous bequests of Mrs. Overall to Texas colleges and other states and to individuals were not affected by today's judgment.

A strong, healthy body and mind always respond to the occasion. Employers appreciate and recognize unfailing freshness—always ready—cheerfully ready to carry on—minus that "tired feeling."

DON'T let a weakened body hold you back. Prolonged, it may result in so-called premature old age. Today's happiness and friends may be gone tomorrow.

Thousands of people have a low blood count—to this may be attributed skin troubles, "run-down" systems and even more serious ailments.

If you tire easily—lack pep—if your skin is not clear—if your appetite is "gone"—you owe it to yourself and friends to try S.S.S.

When you get your red-blood-cells back up to normal, that sluggish, let-down feeling, lack of appetite, skin troubles disappear. You should get hungry again and sleep soundly; firm flesh should take the place of that which was once flabby. You should feel strong. Your nerves become steady.

S.S.S. helps Nature build rich, red blood. It improves the processes by which the body is nourished.

TARRANT COUNTY PRISONERS TAKEN TO STATE PRISON

ROOM IS ANNOUNCED FOR ABOUT FORTY MEN FROM CROWDED JAILS OF STATE

SHERMAN, April 21.—(AP)—Penitentiary Agent Bud Russell has been instructed to take about 40 convicts to the state prison at Huntsville from jails that are most ..owded Lee Simmons prison manager said today.

Among jails to be relieved of state prisoners were those at Ft. Worth, Wichita Falls, Houston and New Boston. Expiration of terms, paroles and shifting of men to farms have made room for the prisoners, Simmons said.

The prison manager was here visiting his sick father.

FORT WORTH, April 21.—(AP)—Four Tarrant county men were taken to the penitentiary at Huntsville Sunday—this time to stay.

They were he same four whom Sheriff Wright and a deputy took to Huntsville several weeks ago ..d vainly attempted to put behind the walls: Bobbie Wells, sentenced to two years for burglary; James Kelly, two years for burglar; Arnold Jacobs, wo years for forgery, and W. C. Vest one year for violation of the liquor law.

Sheriff Wright today recalled a promise made by Warden Harrell on the previous trip of the prisoners to Huntsville—that the first men accepted into the penitenlary would be be from Tarran county.

"I guess Warden Harrell is keeping his promise," Wright said.

The state prison board announced several months ago that owing to the crowded condition of the prison system no more prisoners would be accepted.

Ordered By Manager

HUNTSVILLE, April 21.—(AP)—Warden Harrell of the state penitentiary here today said that the order to accep four For Worth convicts was given by Lee Simmons, who recently took over the management of the prison system.

"The pickup order was given by Mr. Simmons and the convicts will be accepted," Mr. Harrell said.

He said that he could give no information as to whether the acceptance of the men from Tarrant county meant modification of the prison board's order of refusing convicts because of overcrowded conditions.

Annual Easter Egg Rolling On White House Lawn

WASHINGTON, April 21.—(AP)—Easter Monday morning, one of the brightest of the year for capital children, set the annual Easter egg rolling merrily rolling aong.

Forty-seven thousand saw that spectacle last year, and when this morning's sun looked down the chances were excellent that it would see even more than that before it set.

By hundreds they came, the toddlers with their Easter baskets—chicks and eggs and bunnies, bunnies and eggs and chicks, made of chocolate, made of sugar or made of fuzzy cloth.

Mrs. Hoover has been confined to her sitting room with a sprained back for two weeks, but those who know her best said she certainly would come out for the children if she possibly could.

.quence of the story should not be interrupted. Other candidates for the place were Betty Bronson and Esther Ralston, actresses who had carried a few minor parts but were not well known.

During the past year the Corsicana representative in Hollywood has been having a strenuous time, in many instances her pictures overlapping, and she averaged almost a picture a month during that period. She denied having a favorite role or that any role that she had carried was particularly dear to her, but she chose "River of Romance" and "The Virginian" as her favorite pictures in which she had appeared.

With the exception of a few pictures in which she has been "loaned" by Paramount, all of her work has been done for that company and her contract has yet two years to run. Her short vacation at this time was occasioned by the fact that the producers are undecided as to which of two plays will be her next work, and she is now waiting for the call to return to the studios.

Roles Have Been Varied.

In her five years, Miss Brian has carried almost every type of role, including "horse operas"—the studio name for Westerns; "blood and thunders"—the old melodramas; mystery plays, and a wide variety of others. Shakespearean roles are about the only type that have been omitted from her career so far. And she has acquitted herself with honor and ease in all of them.

Only a few of her pictures have not been shown in Corsicana, and she was highly pleased when she found that "Only the Brave" in which she plays opposite Gary Cooper, is to be shown in the near future.

While the "talkies" make greater demands on the actors, Miss Brian asserts that the work is infinitely more pleasant than work for the silent screen, where so many retakes were necessary because some little something failed to achieve the desired results.

The individual actors are called upon to do a greater amount of preparation and study for their roles in talking pictures, but the fact they are actually living their roles on the sets and not pantomiming, makes the work easier and enables the players to feel the result of their labors more readily. All of the work is done in soundproof booths.

Talking Pictures Easier.

During the early days of the "talkies," Miss Brian asserted that there were many difficulties to be overcome that made additional demands on the artists; but within the past few months the majority of these have been overcome and the work is much easier. Among the recent changes in the studios is new equipment that makes a large quantity of makeup unnecessary; many of the women use only a fraction of that needed formerly, and in several instances the men use none at all, saving time and trouble for the actors.

Work in the studios is much like that in any other profession, the actress pointed out. If the scenes are to be "shot" inside, the actors and actresses must be in their places ready for action at 9 o'clock, which means that they must be in costume, and made up by that hour hour.

For outside scenes, the party must be on the scene by daybreak, but the early hours demanded are more than made up by the joys of being outside and the picnic in idle moments, Miss Brian declared.

Not Permitted to Fly.

Aviation has considerable fascination for her, the actress admitted, but her contract forbids her enjoying the latest method of transportation. She laughed gaily as she related an incident in which the officials had refused to allow her to use a plane to reach a scheduled appointment for a public appearance, but readily consented to her making the trip via automobile. But the trip was made in such a hurry that most of the curves were made on two wheels, and the actress was probably in greater danger than she would have been in a plane. She has hopes, however, of indulging in flying in the future.

In all fairness to the actress, it must be stated that the screen fails to do her justice in its portrayal of her beauty and personality. One is immediately aware of this fact when they see her and talk to her. In too many instances the fans are disappointed when they see their favorite off the screen.

But in the case of Mary Brian, there is no disappointment except that of screen unfairness. Thoroughly unspoiled and without a trace of haughtiness or superiority, no more gracious a personality could be imagined. Thoroughly democratic, her handshake is an immediate index to her character for it meets one fairly and with an unmistakable grip, in pleasing contract to the usual limp gesture so often affected by the languid flappers of today.

Attractive Personality.

She is neither a flapper nor of the more sedate type, but a pleasing combination of the best of both. Her long bobbed hair of a dark brown falling about her face, sets off regular features and a clear complexion that causes envy from the feminine group, and peculiar paplitations in the cardiac regions of the males.

During her brief stay in Corsicana, Mrs. Dantzler and Miss Louise are in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McGill on West Second avenue, life-long friends. A number of social events have been scheduled honoring the visitors, and they will be among the honor guests at the annual Corsicana Country club dance Monday evening.

Mary Pickford has been known for several years as "America's Sweetheart," but she had best renew her campaign vigorously or her mantle will fall on the shoulders of Corsicana's own, both claimed and admitted, Mary Brian. She is now in her early twenties and with a very auspicious start bids fair to blaze on the film horizon for many years.

She was born in Corsicana and lived here for several years. Her father, T. J. Dantzler was one of Corsicana's leading business men until his death, and he is buried in Oakwod cemetery.

ASTRONOMERS PLAN MAKE PHOTOGRAPHS OF BRIEF ECLIPSE

VALLEYS OF MOON HELD AS GREAT HAZARD OWING TO PECULIAR ECLIPSE

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., April 21.—(AP)—If the valleys of the moon do not interfere, American astronomers next Monday will photograph an eclipse of the sun that flashes over their cameras for barely more than a second.

It is one of the briefest eclipses on record and so small—a round shadow half a mile wide—that the president of the American Astronomical Society, Dr. Ernest W. Brown of Yale, warns that mile-deep valleys on the edge of the moon may spoil it somewhat. As the moon will only barely cover the sun's face, a mile valley may serve as a nick through which sunlight will pour.

Although the moon's valleys are a new hazard owing to the pecularities of this eclipse, astronomers are preparing at several places for photographs afoot and in airplanes. The largest party will be from Lick Observatory, University of California, under direction of Prof. J. H. Moore.

The path of totality extends from San Francisco to the Montana state line. Thereafter the center of the eclipse will be annular, a rim of the sun showing on all sides of the moon, and the spectacle will cross Montana into Canada.

In the area of totality, it is said at Harvard observatory, the usual spectacles of Baily's beads, shadow bands and corona may be expected. No great darkness is forecast because of the small area of complete shadow.

Several thousand visitors were expected for the event, the program including addresses by W. P. Hobby, former governor; John Henry Kirby, Gen. Jacob F. Wolters, and officials of Beaumont and Houston.

Davidson to Speak.

T. W. Davidson, former lieutenant governor, was called to speak on "Texas Independence" at the celebration in Dallas, an open air picnic.

Edinburg, in the Rio Grande Valley, planned a Valley-wide celebration, including an address by J. Frank Dobie, University of Texas instructor, authority on early Texas life and author of books on Texas cowboy folklore.

The Austin Reserve Officers' Association scheduled an all-day camp at Camp Mabry, and at Barton Springs, a celebration was arranged to commemorate the surrender of General Santa Anna and his army to Gen. Sam Houston.

GOVERNOR TO CALL SPECIAL ELECTION FOR CONGRESSMAN

AUSTIN, April 21.—(AP)—Governor Moody will issue a proclamation within the next few days setting a date for the special election in the 17th congressional district to fill the vacancy left by the death of Congressman R. Q. Lee in the National house of representatives, he announced today.

He said the law directed the governor to call an election "immediately" when a vacancy occurred and he would carry out its provisions.

He recalled that special elections were held in the 10th and 13th districts, following resignation of Albert Burleson to become postmaster general of the United States, and the accidental death of Lucian Parrish, J. P. Buchanan and Gwinn Williams, respectively, having been elected to the vacancies.

The law provides that the special election shall be held not to exceed 30 days after the date of first publication of it.

Five Men Sentenced For Participation in Red Thursday Riots

NEW YORK, April 1.—(AP)—William Z. Foster, Robert Minor, Israel Amter and Harry Raymond, found guilty of unlawful assembly in the "Red Thursday" riot of last month in Union Square, today were sentenced to indeterminate penitentiary terms. Under the law the sentences may run anywhere from one day to three years, at the discretion of the state board of parole.

Joseph Lester, fifth man convicted of unlawful assembly, was given a thirty day sentence.

The sentences were imposed by Justices Max Solomon, James J. McInerney, and Daniel F. Murphy of the court of special sessions. Lester was given the light sentencve, the justices said, because he was merely an instrument in the hands of the others, whom the court described as the "prime movers."

FIRST GOVERNOR OF TEXAS BROUGHT HOME FOR BURIAL

Congressional cemetery at Washington, where it had rested since Henderson died on March 4, 1858, while serving as United States senator from Texas.

Services were planned in the state senate chamber of the capitol, with Judge O. S. Lattimore of the court of criminal appeals delivering the oration. Henderson served as attorney general and as ambassador from the Republic of Texas to England.

All state departments in the capitol were closed for the day.

At the battlefield of San Jacinto, near Houston, thousands of Texans gathered on their annual pilgrimage to lay wreaths on the graves of the fallen heroes.

Story of Battle Told.

Relation of the story of how the 800 Texans under General Sam Houston, with cries of "Remember the Alamo and Goliad!"— where Texas patriots had been massacred—surprised General Santa Anna and his soldiers at their siesta hour with sudden victory—was on the program arranged by Sons and daughters of the Republic of Texas. Speakers on the program included Clarence R. Wharton, relative of John A. Wharton, one of the heroes of San Jacinto; and W. E. Kendall, grandson of General Sidney Sherman, who commanded the left wing of the Texan troops in the victory. Half of the Mexican army of 1,600 was killed and the others captured, among them General Santa Anna himself.

Chimes in tha tower of the main building at the University of Texas, in Austin, were attuned to the strains of "Come to the Bower," the song which, according to tradition, Texas solders sang before going into the battle of San Jacinto.

Battle of Flowers.

San Antonio's annual Fiesto De San Jacinto occupied attention there, with the historic battle of flowers at noon, after which Gov. Dan Moody was in the program for an address at a luncheon. In the afternoon, the annual pilgrimage to the Alamo was planned.

Patriotic, civic and fraternal organizations joined in preparing the ceremony of laying wreaths there, honoring heroes who died in the Alamo's defense.

Beaumonts' celebration took the form of a fiesta opening the Evadale bridge, replacing ferry service which had been in use on the Neches river between Texas and Louiisana since days of the Texas Republic.

The local Odd Fellows and Rebekahs, assisted by the other lodges of the county and neighboring counties, stage this picnic each year with the inmates of the Homes in Corsicana and Ennis as honor guests. The Odd Fellows and Rebekahs bring well-filled baskets while the local lodge furnishing a consderable portion of the food.

Visiting members from Malakoff, Athens, Kerens and other lodges were on hand Thursday night at the banquet-meeting. It is expected that the picnic this year will be the largest in recent years.

The lodge voted Thursday night to install a drinking fountain in the lodge room. One of the largest attendances in months was reported Thursday night.

The annual picnic will be an all-day affair. After the luncheon, a special program will be presented in the auditorium at 2 o'clock under the direction of Superintendent Ross G. Harris and the music committee. It is expected that a baseball game will be arranged for the I. O. O. F. Home, but definite announcement has not been made.

Invite High Official.

W. T. Parker, general chairman of the committees in charge, stated Friday morning that he wanted everyone to attend who possibly could and bring well-filled baskets so that the Old Folks and children could have a real picnic. "They look forward each year for this day, it is our treat to them, it makes them have a good time, and makes us happy, too," he stated.

IF HOME OUTPUT SHUT IN FOREIGN OIL BE SHUT OUT

DEFINITE STAND FOR CURTAILED IMPORTATION AND TARIFF ON OIL TAKEN

FORT WORTH, April 19. (AP)—If domestic production of oil is to be "shut in," importation from abroad must be "shut out," Pat Malloy, president of Malloy & Company, independent oil operators of Tulsa told the independent Petroleum Association of America in its first annual conference here today.

The statement was included in the declaration of principles and purposes written by Malloy and adopted unanimously by the association.

Among the purposes outlined by Malloy were those to make it impossible for the United States to depend on a foreign government for any part of its oil supply and to stabilize the oil market.

A constitution, subject of much discussion at the directors' meeting yesterday, was adopted unanimously without discussion.

In an address which was broadcast, Wirt Franklin of Ardmore, Okla., president of the association, described the organization's origin in a "rump mass meeting" growing out of the national oil conservation conference at Colorado Springs last June.

Franklin charged that the purpose of the major companies at that conference was to cut the domestic production so as to have the American market available for the oil they produced abroad.

The importance of the oil industry and the part played in that business by the independents were discussed by Franklin.

Independents Important.

"If the independent is ruined the city skyscrapers in the oil section will become roosting places for bats and pigeons," he prophesied.

"For the five years preceding last year when production was curbed and importation increased the entire expense of state government in Oklahoma was liquidated by the tax on oil. In Texas the industry bears 53 per cent of the cost of state government. The independents produce more than 60 per cent of the nation's oil."

Franklin pictured the fight for an oil tariff which he led and which ended in defeat by one vote in the United States senate. He mentioned that when he went to were committed in favor of the tariff. On the final vote 42 were for it. He urged the voters of Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas to return their senators, all of whom voted for the duty.

The presiding officer denied there had ever been over production of oil in this country, saying importation had caused the oversupply.

FORT WORTH, April 19.—(AP)—Delegates to the first annual convention of the Independent Petroleum Association of America worked today on a program seeking a tariff on oil and plans for a domestic campaign against foreign importers.

Preliminaries were put behind yesterday at a meeting of officers of the association with officers of affiliated state associations.

Directors of the association voted to postpone action on a legislative program which would effect further proration until after the amount of oil imported had been reduced to its 1928 level or until a tariff of $1 a barrel on crude and 50 per cent ad valorem on refined products had been made effective.

Speaking of curtailment laws proposed, Wirt Franklin of Ardmore, Oklahoma, president of the independents, said, "if the powers that be want reduction, let them put their own house in order by curtailing imports."

Franklin was praised for his work in support of an oil tariff, which failed by only one vote in the senate, and the directors expressed confidence the movement would not fail the next time.

May Re-Elect Franklin.

Franklin, who, during argument on a constitution for the organization, threatened to resign, was generally urged for re-election as president in tribute to his leadership of the independents, especially in support of the oil tariff.

Argument on the constitution which resulted in Franklin's threat to resign was preciditated by the Texas delegation. The group thought it needed more than the allotted 50 per cent of the dues of is members to work for the members of the legislature who voted for memorializing congress on behalf of the oil tariff and to work against the "eight candidates" for governor who wanted to increase the taxes on the oil indusry. Franklin said he would resign rather than be a party to the subordination of the national aims to those of any paricular secion, and Texas leaders retreated.

Membership Extended.

The constitution approved by the board of directors extended membership to an independent producer of crude petroleum, or natural gas, in the United States exclusively, an independent refiner of petroleum, an intrastate transporter of crude petroleum or its products, or natural gas through pipe lines, an owner of oil or gas royalties, a land owner, a permit holder, an independent distributor, a drilling contractor, or distributor of petroleum proucts or natural gas, or one who is connected with independent companies engaged in any of these lines of activity.

It set up an organization consisting of a board of directors, an executive committee, a president, executive vice-president, executive secretary, treasurer, general counsel, one vice-president elected by the convention and a vice-president from each state. Authority to select a headquarters was vested in the board of directors. Problems of the California independents were placed before the directors by R. L. Gilmore of Bakersfield, Calif. Gilmore scored the federal government's policy of withdrawing from development of public lands in eleven western states. He explained the asserted injustices of the policy to the stacs. The independens last year at Colorado Springs went on record in opposition to the government's [illegible]

October improved 3 points to 15.03. Prices soon eased off again losing 4 to 5 points on the old crop months and 12 points on October. The market appears to be very irregular.

Following activity at the start, the market became very quiet, and during the rest of the morning fluctuated within the early range with only a few points spread. KLAN WIZARD IN DENIAL OF STORY KLAN SECRETARY

DALLAS, April 21.—(AP)—Details of his part of an alleged contribution of $10,000 to the gubernatorial campaign of Felix D. Robertson in 1924 were related by Hiram Wesley Evans, imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, here today in his $150,000 libel suit against the Austin American.

Evans denied he advanced $10,000 to the campaign as charged by George K. Butcher, former secretary of Dallas Klan 66, in the latter's testimony last week.

Evans said Butcher had wired Z. E. Marvin of Dallas for the money when the dragons and titans of the organization were in session on an island off the coast of Michigan in September, 1924.

"As I recall it, Mr. Marvin was unable to raise the money on the island," the witness said, "and I notified Dr. J. B. Hill, my brother-in-law, at Dallas to advance the money to Mr. Marvin or whomever he directed. I let him have $5,000."

He said he could not recall whether Marvin had stated that that the money was for political purposes, but that he would presume that he did because of the manner in which the money was obtained.

"If Mr. Marvin had wanted the money for Klan purposes, I would more than likely have wired the Atlanta office to let him have it from there," the witness declared.

Judge Towne Young announced rial of the $20,000 breach of contract suit which Butcher has brought against Evans would be called as soon as the libel suit was completed.

New Equipment to Bring Improvement In Dry Cleaning

Elbert Neely announced today that the Roderick Cleaning company had just completed installation of new equipment to take care of the new method of dry cleaning adopted by the National Institute of Dyeing and Dry Cleaning and which is one of the widest steps taken in improvement of dry cleaning in recent years and that in consideration of the already vast improvements that have been made, Mr. Neely states that this new S. S. S. method of dry cleaning eliminates at least 90 percent of wet cleaning of silks which is so important to the ladies today as most all materials have a tendency to shrink when subjected to wet cleaning.

Mr. Neely is president and general manager of the Roderick Cleaning company, having taken charge in 1923 and since that time under his control has grown from just a pressing shop to the large capacity that it has today.

TEXANS WILL MEET WITH COMMITTEEMEN FROM WISCONSIN

AUSTIN, April 21.—(AP)—Governor Moody said today he would grant the request of Gov. Kohler of Wisconsin to appoint a committee of Texans to act with a similar delegation from Wisconsin as a "jury of view" to inspect the Rio Grande Valley and other Texas lands affected by action of the Wisconsin state realty board in refusing permits to certain Texas agencies to sell land there.

"I am pleased Gov. Kohler has agreed to send a committee to Texas to make a first hand inspection in order to fairly estimate the productivity of Texas lands," Gov. Moody said.

"I shall appoint a committee of Texans to serve with the Wisconsin delegation and I feel confident that the differences created by Wisconsin's action toward Rio Grande Valley lands will be definitely adjusted."

In a telegram to Governor Kohler, Governor Moody expressed the hope the governor would accompany the committee to Texas.

"I want to invite and urge you personally to accompany the committee to Texas," Governor Moody said in the message. "The people of Texas would be delighted to have you visit our state and we will show you a most unusual development of a splendid country."

He told the Wisconsin governor the committee would see in the Rio Grande valley "the greatest vegetable and citrus fruit country on the North American continent," and that this section was "properly described by the name, magic valley, which we give it."

MOODY GIVES OUT ACCOUNT OF TERM AS STATE'S HEAD

AUSTIN, April 21. —(AP)— Two more statements from Governor Moody, touching on the ups and downs of his administration with the 41st legislature and giving his views with reference to solving pending problems are expected this week. He gave a review of his three-years' tenure as governor yesterday.

All politicians in and around the capitol expect the statements to pave the way for the governor's announcement for a third term.

In his first statement, Governor Moody compared his highway building achievements with the administration of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson and in other ways gave an accounting of his stewardship.

He claimed his administration had brought about the lowest average ad valorem tax rate for state purposes in recent years, after paying obligations inherited from previous administrations, including over $6,200,000 in the highway department and over $3,680,000 in other departments. He said his administration had improved the public school system by adding more than $9,000,000 additional funds for their support and caused a reduction in the average cost of textbooks of $2,000,000.

He said his administration had substituted competitive bidding for political favoritism in highway building and had contracted ten times more miles of concrete road in 1929 than in 1925, and that these were to be built at 20 per cent less cost, or over $5,680 less per mile, than in 1925. Over 3,700 miles of all-weather highways had been contracted and put under construction during his administration, he said.

"Federal aid, which was held up and withdrawal threatened during the preceding administration because of inefficiency, has been obtained from the federal government, and the yearly allotment to Texas recently increased from $4,500,000 to $7,50,000, bringing $3,000,000 additional federal aid to Texas annually" he said.

FIVE BANDITS TAKE MAIL AND DRIVER OF TRUCK LAST NIGHT

CHICAG, April 18.—(AP)—The night airmail from the north was stolen last night, and the driver of the truck in which it was being carried from the municipal air port kidnapped.

Five pouches, two containing registered mail of undetermined value, were taken. The truck driver Adolph Stehno, was finally set free, and he ran half a mile to telephone first news of the robbery.

Pilot A. R. Mensing of Oshkosh, Wis., dropped his plane on the flood lighted airport at 8 o'clock and helped Stehno load the mail into the truck.

Stehno, driving down the airport road, found his path blocked by a sedan crosswise on the highway. Five men, all armed, compelled him to drive the truck behind the sedan to a deserted side street. There the mail pouches were transferred to the sedan. Futher along the road, Stehno was set free.

Postal inspectors today checked a list of past mail robberies in their search for suspects.

They said Thomas Holding and Ray Keating were believed in hiding near Chicago after escaping from the federal prison at Leavenworth. Both are sentenced for their parts in the mail robbery at Eevengreen Park, a suburb, in 1926.

Inspector David Lyons said Danny McGeoghegan, pal of the notoriuos "Midget" Fernekles and once convicted and sentenced to hang for murder, has said on a former arrest "I'm going to pull one more good job before I'm through."

FOR COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT.

To the voters of Navarro county:

I take this method of announcing my candidacy for the election to the office of county superintendent of public instruction of Navarro county. I hereby submit the following reasons for making such announcement.

I was born and reared in the Eureka community. My parents parents were engaged in farming as an occupation. I have taught in the rural schools for sixteen years, having been promoted to some of the best superintendences of the school of the county. I am now superintendent of Mildred public schools in which I have secured classification from the state department of education as a four-year high school. I have made extensive study and observation of the supervision of the rural education for the past several years, and with my experience in a supervisory way enable me to also supervise the many schools of the county in a profitable manner. I hold a permanent state certificate.

I have been associated with the superintendent's office for the past six or eight years and am familiar with all legal supervisory conditions. I had the pleasure of serving on the board of examiners for about two years.

I have never asked for office before and inexperienced in the art of politics but I shall try to meet the good people of Navarro county in due time and discuss my claim. Should I fail to have this opportunity, it will be because I cannot reach you.

It shall be my intention if elected to co-operate with all board members in every way for the betterment of the school system. It shall be my object to deal with each individual who may be interested in any school matter, in the most fair and conservative way.

Assuring the voters of this county my sincerest co-operation, my experience and qualifications, I will submit my claim to the office.

Respectfully submitted,
HENRY G. CHANDLER.

RIOT DEVELOPED IN R. I. STATE PRISON THREE MEN ARE SHOT

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 19.—(AP)—Three men were shot, one probably fatally, in the yard of the state prison at Howard, R. I., this afternoon in a fierce riot that broke out when a Massachusets automobile bearing men and arms entered the large gateway of the institution.

The guns were distributed, and the men at once commenced a broadside of shots.

Two men serving time for murder were shot down by guards

Whether they took part in the attempt to effect the wholesale escape hat evidently had been well planned was not known.

At 3 o'clock, a cordon of police, numbering perhaps 35, who responded to siren calls at the prison, were said to have the situation in hand so far as any delivery was concerned.

Meanwhile, however, a number of inmates, many of them armed, were in possession of the prison proper.

Tear gas bombs brought surrender offers at 3 o'clock and the authorities believed they were in control.

Late estimates of the number of inmates placed the figures at about 500. There are several lifers and numerouns long termers. Only last week a group of men reaching the superior court here from the prison for arraignment were discovered to have rudely fashioned, but dangerous, weapons with them which had been brought in from their cells.

The prison is a big gray building in a group near which is also the state hospital for mental diseases, with 1,800 inmates.

NATIVE SERGEANT IN NICARAGUA RAN AMUCK AT OUTPOST

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, April 19.—(AP)—Two American marine officers were killed and a sergeant was seriously wounded yesterday by a disgruntled Nicaraguan sergeant who had recently been demoted because of drunkenness at Jicaro.

The officers were Acting Captain Veryl H. Dartt of Nashville, Tenn., and Lieut. James O. Young of Toledo, Ohio

Sergeant Morales, who turned a machine gun on the officers' quarters, was killed himself by other members of the national guard first battalion stationed at Jicaro, northernmost outpost near the Honduran frontier.

Morales, who had been reduced to a corporal, overpowered a sentry and turned the gon on the officers' fuarters, firing 52 shots before he could be killed. The killing took place at 1:30 a. m. Friday. The officers were sleeping when the fusillade opened.

Acting Capt. Dartt was instantly killed, and Lieut. Young was mortally wounded, dying a few hours later. Sergeant Gonzales was seriously wounded and was expected to die.

Captain Dartt was a lieutenant in the United States marine corps from Nashville, where he recently was married, and his wife, Mrs. Ruth Dartt, now resides there. Lieut. Young was a sergeant in the United States marines. His next of kin, his mother, Mrs. Susie B. Webster, lives in Toledo.

The bodies were brought to Managua by airplane and probably will be sent to the United States on the transport Chamont, sailing April 23.

It was officially reported that everything else was quiet in all sections.

egation to London, represented a practical application of the peaceful declarations of the Kellogg anti-war pact, limiting at once the navies of the United States, Great Britain and Japan, and holding a promise of future agreement also as to the naval establishments of France and Italy.

Mr. Stimson's address, listened to by the members of the Associated Press at their luncheon here, was broadcast also throughout the country by the National Broadcasting Company.

"The work of the London conference," he said, "has really comprised two quite separate naval problems—the problem of the relations between the navies of the United States, Great Britain and Japan, on the one hand, and the problem of the relations between the navies of Great Britain, France and Italy on the other.

"These are quite distinct problems. The first of these has been solved. * * *

"In the second of these probelms * * * valuable discussions have been had and the underlying questions upon which a final solution must rest have been explored and clarified."

Greetings From Hoover.

The following greeting from President Hoover was read at the luncheon by Frank B. Noyes, president of the Associated Press:

"Frank B. Noyes,
"President, Associated Press.

"I would appreciate it greatly if you would extend my greetings to the annual meeting of the Associated Press. It is a great institution which daily renders intellectual service to the American people with that fine impartiality and reliability that have given it high distinction.

"It is a marvelous advancement of science that enables you to listen to an address from London by Secretary Stimson. The work of Secretary Stimson and his colleagues at the conference has been carefully and fully transmitted over the wires of the Associated Press day by day for the past four months, and thereby the American people have gained an appreciation of the problems which the conference has undertaken to solve and the difficulties they have met and the success that has resulted.

Another Forward Step.

"Their achievement marks another great step in the maintenance of peace. Only the utmost courage and tenacity of the eminent men comprising all the delegations at London could have brought to so difficult a problem a solution fruitful of so many blessings.

"The Associated Press and other press representatives have contributed materially, for such negotiation in these times is not alone the work of the delegation, it must be responsive to national instinct and national aspiration. Peace is fundamentally a state of mind and a resolve of will of the whole people. Therefore the fidelity of the press representatives in reporting the course of the conference has played a large part in its success by giving all of our people an instant and comprehensive knowledge of the facts, and thus enabling the nation itself to share in these negotiations.

"I wish to compliment the Associated Press on the service it has rendered.

"HERBERT HOOVER."

Kent Cooper, general manager of the Associated Press, after outlining work of the Associated Press, said:

"Then, and not the easiest of all, is the relationship to the public. You all know that many readers of your newspapers are convinced that they could edit your newspapers better than you. Well, all of this class in every community combined feel individually and collectively that they could manage the Associated Press better than I can. Some do not hesitate to write me about it. Others write letters to the newspapers. Some say it in the magazines. The only comfort I can find is that each has a selfish complex. In reality, what they want is to have the Associated Press exclude everything except that which is compatible with their own mental composure or which furthers their own selfish interests.

"Men consumed with the passion or partisanship can never believe that an institution which deals so intimately with human conflicts can remain free from intentional bias. That's why the Associated Press is alternately, and with equal force, charged by partisans with being liberals, conservative, wet, dry, Catholic, protestant, republican, democratic, pro-labor, capitalistic, etc.

"As a matter of fact, it is none of those things. Nor has it the slightest concern as respects any of them except that it seeks the news of each of them. There may be members of the board of directors who, as publishers, have leanings toward some one of these causes. Entrusted fully with the management of the news report as I am, it never occurred to me to make note of their partisan interests. I do know that they would not try to impose their partisan views upon my administration of the news report. Nor have they; nor could they.

"Moreover, as intimate as I am with the staff of the Associated Press, no member of that staff has ever, by word or action, had from me an indication of any partisan views of my own—if I have any."

FORT WORTH MEN HELD WITHOUT BAIL IN BANK SLAYINGS

FORT WORTH, April 19.—(AP)—John Alsup and A. P. Boyt were remanded to jail without bail at the conclusion of an examining trail today.

They are charged with the murder of two negroes, Isaac "Will" Tate, and George Terrell, in an alleged Polytechnic bank robbery "frame-up."

District Attorney Stuart announced the state would ask the deah penalty in Alsup's case.

"As far as the state is concerned," he said, "there is no next step until action is taken by the grand jury."

Clyds Mays, attorney for Alsup, indicated he would start habeas corpus procedings some time next week.

Impassioned arguments by Mays and Stuart closed the trial, which has been in progress since Thursday morning.

After Justice Faulkner announced his decison Alsup and Boyt were handcuffed together and led from the court room.

Defense Witness

W. L. Zent, police chief at San Angelo, was the first defense witness called to the stand. Zent said he was called to Fort Worth as a witness in a government case, and on the Monday night preceding the bank killings, which were on Thursday, April 10, was at Alsup's house.

"Someone knocked, and Alsup went out," stated Zent. "He then called me out, and I saw a negro standing under a tree on the sidewalk. Alsup explained that 'this is a funny proposition, and I want you to hear it. This boy has got a tip that the Poly bank is going to be robbed'."

"This negro said that the two other negroes wanted him to drive the car and that he had put them off. The job was to be pulled at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, the negro said. He said he thought he could find out more about it, and I told him to go ahead and let Alsup and me know, and if he couldn't find me the next morning, to let Alsup know.

"Alsup asked me if I didn't want to help 'pull the job'." Zent explained that this meant if Alsup didn't want him to help frustrate the bank robbery.

FORT WORTH, April 19.—(AP)—Police Chief William Zent, San Angelo appeared as a defense witness here today for the examining trial of John Alsup and A. P. Boyt, charged with killing two negroes in an alleged Polytechnic bank robbery "frame-up."

It was Zent, previous testimany in the trial showed, who first told Police Chief Lee of Fort Worth of the "tip" that the bank was to be held up. He arrived from San Angelo last night.

A telegram from Police Chief Lee of Fort Worth, now at San Angelo investigating an anonymous letter, informed Stuart the trial was false. Upon receipt of the letter Friday, which advised officers to conduct an investigation there, Lee left for the West Texas city.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—(AP)—Representative R. Q. Lee of Texas is dead.

The Texan died at the Emergency hospital about 10 o'clock this morning after an ilness of five weeks.

Mr. Lee was stricken with paralysis five weeks ago, and it was thought for some time he would recover. Wednesday night he suffered a relapse and yesterday physicians gave up hope of his recovery.

Representative Lee was born at Coldwater, Miss., January 12, 1869. He moved with his father to Fort Worth, Texas, in 1886 and later made his home at Cisco, Texas, where he lived until elected to the house for the 71st congress. His widow and children are here.

Funeral services will be announced shortly.

Lee succeeded former Representative Tom Blanton from the 17th Texas district and had announced for re-election.

Blanton also has announced his candidacy.

The house adopted a resolution or sorrow over the death of Representative Lee, and adjourned out of respect to his memory.

Announcement of the Texan's death was made by Representative Garrett of Texas, who attributed his colleague's death to his devotion to duty.

Speaker Longworth appointed a committee of 24 members to attend the funeral at Cisco, including the eighteen members of the Texas delegation, Representative Parks of Arkansas, McClingic and McKeown of Oklahoma, Sandlin of Louisiana, democrats, and Knutson of Minnesota, Underhill of Massachusetts, and Curry of California, republicans.

Besides his widow, Representative Lee is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Leonard Simon of Cisco, and Mrs. Harold Ochler, of Dayton, Texas, and three sons, Edward, Robert Stein, and R. Q. Lee, Jr.

The body is to leave Washington tonight for Cisco, where the funeral will be held probably on Monday. A congressional delegation will accompany the body along with members of the family who have been in Washington during the illness.

Born in Mississippi.

Robert Quincy Lee was born Jan. 12, 1869, near Coldwater, Tate county, Mississipi. He moved with his father to Fort Worth, Texas, in April 1886 and in 1891 settled at Caddo, Stephens county.

As a youth he went into the mercantile business, operating a general store until 1913, when he moved to Cisco. When oil development brought a new industry to West Texas he invested and became wealthy.

Lee's interests gradually ramified into farming, ranching and banking. He was president of the Cisco Banking Company, an unincorporated institution which successfully weathered the post-boom era and became one of the strongest banks in the community.

Prior to his election to congress in 1928, he had held but one political office, and a small one. He was postmaster at Caddo in his early days, the postoffice being maintained in his store.

Diversification Champion.

Mr. Lee gained general public attention in 1924 when he became prominent in affairs of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce as an expounder of crop diversification. He was elected president of the organization at its Mineral Wells convention in 1925 and his administration was marked by the vigor of his campaign to rid the territory of the one-crop system. He traveled thousands of miles over the chamber's far-flung area and delivered hundreds of speeches in which he affirmed the danger of farmers persisting in depending upon cotton only as their money crop.

To give point to his speeches, Lee started a model farm two miles southeast of Cisco, and made it pay. As a result of his contact with West Texas farmers, hundreds visited the farm to study his methods.

His personal affairs prospering, he declined to permit his name to be placed for re-election to the presidency of the West Texas chamber. He was occupied with his lands and bank; he had promoted and built, and was president of, the Cisco and Northwestern Railroad, connecting Cisco and Breckenridge—and he was planning to enter national politics.

Soon after the Cisco and Northeastern was acquired by the Texas and Pacific Railway, which extended the line to Throckmorton, Lee announced his candidacy for congress from the Seventeenth Texas district. Thomas L. Blanton, incumbent, had retired to make the race for the United tSates senate.

In the 1928 democratic primary Lee was top man in a field of six; and in the run-off defeated Oscar Callaway of Comanche after a bitter campaign in which Callaway attacked Lee's sale of the Cisco and Northeastern railroad and Lee attacked Callaway's war record. Congressman Lee took his seat March 4, 1929, representing the counties of Brown, Burnet, Callahan, Coleman, Comanche, Concho, Eastland, Jones, Lampasas, Llano, McCulloch, Mills, Nolan, Palo Pinto, Runnels, San Saba, Shackleford Stephens and Tayolr.

Friends of Colonel Lee believe his death was hastened by an injury received in an automobile accident in 1928. He sustained a fracture of the skull and was gravely ill several weeks. During a visit home in the fall of 1929 Lee was treated for an intestinal trouble.

Mr. Lee's first marriage was to Miss Ada Cook at Caddo. Three children born to the union survive. After the death of his wife he was married to Miss Clara Lee of Mississippi. Two sons were born to them.

AUSTIN, April 18.—(AP)—Governor Moody said in the death of Congressman R. Q. Lee of Cisco, Texas had lost a representative in the national congress who had the best interests of the entire state at heart all the time.

"He was a man who was trying to give not only constituents of his district but the entire state a worthwhile service," Governor Moody said. "He had succeeded in being of valuable assisance and was destined to become an influence in Washington."

Reports from other sections of the district are expected to be forthcoming within a few days, as a number of the enumerators have almost completed their work.

This year the reports of the population totals are released from the office of the district supervisor in place of from Washington. Copies of the figures are sent to newspapers, city officials, and commercial organizations.

A. AND M. COLLEGE TO PARTICIPATE IN OIL ROYALTY FUND

AUSTIN, April 24.—(AP)—Texas A. and M. college at College Station will participate in the oil royalty funds of the University of Texas under an agreement reached here today following a conference between the board of regents of the University of Texas and the board of directors of the Agricultural and Mechanical college.

The legislature at its next session will be requested by the boards of the two schools to amend the law to permit A. and M. college to participate in the available university funds, the income derived from the permanent fund established through oil leases and royalties.

The agreement calls for the expenditure during 1931, 1932 and 1933 of $150,000 by A. and M. The University of Texas to spend the remainder of the available fund for these years.

After September [illegible], 1934, one-third of the fund is to be set aside for A. and M. with the University of Texas spending the remaining two-thirds. Funds derived from surface leases on university land were not included in the agreement. The agreement also gives the directors of the two schools the right to pledge the funds for a period not exceeding 15 years.

It is stipulated, however, that funds must be expended for permanent improvements and equipment of buildings.

The oil royalty fund now totals more than $14,000,000.

SECOND PLUGGING OPERATION AT VAN; WELL BROUGHT IN

VAN, April 21.—(AP)—Successful in the second "plugging" operation, drillers in the Van oil field have brought in the Freeman No. 1 well in the so-called "Soldier's Field" as a producer, estimated making 2,500 barrels of oil.

Threatened with water when the drill was sent too deep, the well was saved by setting a lead plug, which cased off the water. A similar operation was successful in the Peters well, brought in last Friday.

The Tunnell No. 1, on the five-acre townsite tract, was brought in Sunday as a 10,000 barrel producer. The E. L. Fowler No. 3, a quarter of a mile east of the Jarman discovery well, was completed Saturday for a flow of from 8,000 to 10,000 barrels.

OKLAHOMA FEDERAL JUDGE REFUSES LET TEXANS INTERVENE

McALESTER, Okla., April 21.—(AP)—Federal Judge R. L. Williams today granted the motion of the state of Texas to intervene in a suit of A. G. Gilbert against the Red River Bridge company, operators of a toll bridge between Denison Tex., and Durant, Okla.

The court's permission was granted after Rice M. Tilley, assistant attorney general of Texas, had withdrawn his challenge of jurisdiction of Judge Williams' court, which had drawn the jurist's wrath this morning.

Judge Williams said that a reason length of time would be given to settle claims against the company before acting on petitions to dismiss receivership. He approved the paying of $6,000 attorneys fees today. Gilbert's suit is one of nine now pending in connection with the bridge company receivership and Texas and Oklahoma efforts to replace the toll bridge with a free structure.

Says Auto Drivers Should Have Vision Tested by Experts

DALLAS, April 21.—(AP)—All automobile drivers should have their vision tested before being allowed on the highways, Dr. J. Thomas Ward of Austin, president of the Texas Optometric association, declared at the association's convention here today.

"Thousands whose far point of vision is 20 inches or less from their eyes are permitted to drive automobiles at breakneck speed up and down the streets, and their excuse for running over a person is 'I didn't see him in time to stop'," Dr. Ward said.

KERENS MINISTER ADDRESSES LOCAL POST OF LEGION

Rev. Joe Everhart, chaplain of the Kerens American Legion Post, was the main speaker at the regular bi-weekly meeting of the Johnson-Wiggins Post No. 22 of the American Legion held Thursday evening in the Legion hall, 216 1-2 North Beaton street.

Discussing the right of Legion posts to exist in communities, the speaker declared that if there was some unique, constructive work for the organization to do it was justified in its existence by caring for these tasks.

Referring to the preamble of the constitution of the American Legion, the speaker declared that they were thoughts expressed there that were not put there just for adoption and then forgotten but were real, vital points in the life of the Legion posts throughout the country. Some of the points referred to were love of God and country, 100 per cent Americanism, supporting the constitution and laws of the nation, furthering of peace and good will among the nations of the world.

The Legion post must not live in the past, the speaker declared, as the real justification for the existence of the organization were in the present and future.

The speaker, referring to the program of activity of the local post and its part in the work of the national organization declared that the Legion should put forth every effort to better the community in which it existed and aid in the furthering the projects of the national headquarters.

In conclusion, Rev. Everhart declared that any time an organization buried itself in its own activites and became self-centered, and does not render a distinct service to the community, it has missed the great aim of service and cannot exist.

In the business meeting following the program, a number of matters were discussed and a committee composed of R. L. Oertle, Sidney K. Breitz and Sadie Ransom were appointed to decide on some kind of entertainment to be sponsored by the American Legion for purposes of raising funds to care for the Sixth Congressional District Legion convention to be held here in the near future.

W. M. Milam, Jr., announced that the $479.10 pledged by Corsicana merchants to purchase instruments for the Drum and Bugle Corps had been collected and instruments paid for.

It was announced by Post Commander A. G. Steele that Dan Spurlock, former Corsicana resident and former vice-commander of the national organization, would be a visitor in Corsicana over the week-end. The Legon post voted to have a special session in honor of the former Corsicana resident which would be announced through the columns of the Corsicana Daily Sun.

A. L. Springfield, secretary-treasurer of the Navarro County Amateur Baseball League, which is being sponsored by the local post, announces that the season would open Sunday, April 20, and urged all Leginnaires to aid in making the league a success.

At the conclusion of the business meeting the session was adjourned with the Leginnaires standing at attention while the color bearers replaced the standards at the rear of the hall from beside the officer's table.

announced after the session he would not give up.

Friends of the nominee who have been at the capitol in his behalf immediately sought to communicate with Parker to learn his wishes. It was their determination, unless instructed otherwise, to carry on the fight on the floor of the senate for Parker.

Chairman Norris of the judiciary committee and Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, led the Republicans in the revolt against President Hoover's nominee to the supreme court.

The committee session was in secret, and the decision came after an hour of discussion.

The American Federation of Labor and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People have protested vigorously against confirmation of Judge Parker.

In view of the committee's decisive vote against Parker, some senators believed efforts would be undertaken either to have the nominee withdraw or to have the president withdraw his name.
